Ike Convinced Defense Needs Are Adequate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was quoted today as saying he is convinced his defense program meets the needs of the situation despite the attacks voiced by some congressional Democrats.

Republican congressional leaders reported after their regular weekly White House session that Eisenhower also said he of course puts the defense of the country ahead of everything else.

There have been suggestions from Democratic critics that Eisenhower was so bent on balancing the budget that he was ready to weaken defenses in order to do it.

The defense program was thoroughly reviewed, the GOP leaders said, during a 2-hour meeting with the President.

The review was against the background of mounting demands among some Democrats that defense spending be increased, and more manpower provided for the armed services.

Both Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House GOP leader, and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.), a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, told newsmen that in their opinion the President is the outstanding expert in the field of national defense needs.

Halleck added that the Republican leaders who attended today's weekly session were in absolute agreement with Eisenhower that the defense program is adequate.

The demands in Congress for stepped up defense spending have been linked particularly with the Berlin situation. This has also produced various suggestions for

Rabid Dog Shot Monday at Stamps

STAMPS, Ark. (AP)—An apparently rabid dog was destroyed yesterday after he had bitten a number of other dogs and possibly some cattle in the Stamps-Buckner area.

Stamps Mayor Howard Wilkinson today issued a proclamation calling on all residents to keep their dogs chained up for observation. Any dog found running at large will be killed, he said.

The dog killed yesterday was shot by Chester Roper, who lives south of Buckner. Roper said the dog tried to attack a tractor he was operating.

The dog was believed to have belonged to a resident of the Magnolia area, who said his pet had been used in hunting foxes and may have been bitten by a rabid fox.

No reports were received of persons being bitten.

Fires Cause Death and Damage

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fires caused death and property damage in scattered parts of the United States today.

Lester Simmons, 30, and three of his four stepchildren perished in a Lisbon Falls, Me., fire that tripped them on the upper floor of their two-story home.

A fire sweeping through four homes in an old lumber camp at Bland, Va., cost the life of Mrs. Irma R. Webber, 39.

A four-alarm fire in Boston destroyed two buildings, including one housing the Hi-Hat nightclub. The fire started after the patrons had left at 1 a.m. closing hour. For a time, an entire block was threatened.

Three-year-old Michael Delizia perished in a blast and fire at 9:15 a.m. today in the family's second-floor apartment in West Brighton, Staten Island, New York.

A pre-dawn fire in Atlantic City, N.J., virtually finished a raging job that wreckers had started on the six-story Astor Hotel, one of the oldest in the resort.

Firemen recovered the body of Mrs. Mary McAlaney, 37, from debris of the Hotel Gary, which was destroyed by fire last Thursday. She was the seventh victim.

New, Cheap Synthetic Rubber Found

NEW YORK (AP)—Development of a synthetic rubber described as tough and durable as the three grown variety—and just as cheap—was announced today by top officials of Shell Chemical Corp. and U.S. Ruedo Co.

They said the man-made product can make the United States independent of foreign rubber in case of war.

The synthetic rubber, known as poly-isoprene, is now in limited production at a Shell plant in the Los Angeles area, the joint announcement said.

U.S. Rubber said it is using the new synthetic in the manufacture of truck tires.

Truck tires made of synthetic rubber commercially available up to now—a type known as GR-S—couldn't stand up, officials said.

Officials of the two concerns said poly-isoprene duplicates the long-wearing and heat-resistant qualities of natural rubber—characteristics needed by heavy-duty trucks, large earth-moving machines, buses, passenger and transport planes, and jet fighters and bombers.

Poly-isoprene was developed some years ago but the manufacturing cost was so high that it was priced out of the market.

Tragic School Fire Probe Is Completed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Board of Directors of the Negro Boys Industrial School has completed a two-day investigation into the fire which last Thursday killed 21 teen-aged boys trapped in a dormitory at the Wrightsville institution.

The board has withheld a report pending a review of the findings by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Board Chairman Alfred E. Smith of Paraquid said, however, the report might be issued today. He said it would not be released until the board had conferred with the governor.

The three active members of the investigation behind locked doors Saturday and yesterday.

Smith said that 23 persons testified to events surrounding the fire.

A mass funeral for 14 of the 21 boys who died in the fire was held today at Little Rock. The victims were buried in a mass grave. The 14 could not be identified individually because of condition of their bodies. Individual services have been held or are planned for the other seven boys.

A Little Rock funeral director yesterday said their families had identified two of the boys as being only 13. School records showed the range of ages from 15 to 18. The two said to be 13 were O. T. Meadows of El Dorado and William Lloyd Eggle Jr. of De Witt.

A bill was submitted to the Legislature yesterday to replace the burned dormitory and to make other buildings at the school fire resistant. An appropriation of $150,000 would be made for the purpose from proceeds of sale of some land which the school owns.

Man, 4 Children Perish in Fire

LISBON FALLS, Maine (AP)—A man and three of his four stepchildren perished early today when fire trapped them in the upper floor of their two-story dwelling.

The victims were identified as Lester Simmons, about 35; Aileen Parker, 14, and her two sisters, Olena, 12, and Martha, 10.

Simmons wife Sara Parker Simmons, also in her 30s, suffered burns, injuries and shock. She leaped from the window of the upper floor.

A fourth child in the family was staying with relatives. Fire officials said the fire might have originated in a hallway stove.

Warren to Get Teacher's Fund

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Warren Industrial Development Corp. will get $2,100 from the state Board of Education to help set up a need-based training program.

The board agreed to the amount yesterday after L. H. Derby, corporation president, said Warren hoped to interest a baby clothes and ladies wear garment factory in locating there, but needed to set up a program for training plant supervisors.

Derby estimated a total of $35,000 would be needed.

Rules Money Can Be Paid for Bridge

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett ruled yesterday that money from the state Highway Bridge Revenue Construction Fund for the Mississippi River Bridge at Helena can be paid out without specific appropriation from the Legislature.

Bennett said the general appropriation act for the state Highway Commission would be sufficient to cover these expenditures. State Treasurer J. Vance Clayton requested the opinion.

Harry Byrd Attacks the Democrats

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic fiscal policies in the 80th Congress came under attack from a conservative Democrat today.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) said in a statement that two Senate-passed bills would permit more than three billion dollars of what he called backdoor expenditures even before Congress has acted on its first appropriations bill.

He referred to a $2,075,000,000 housing bill and a 495-million-dollar federal aid to airport measures bill.

The bills were approved by Democrats and largely opposed by Senate Republicans. Neither has yet been acted on by the House.

The bills permit spending, Byrd said, by using Treasury debt receipt and contract authorizations procedures which effectively short circuit controls by the appropriations committees.

Under normal procedure, an expenditure first must be authorized by Congress, and then noted on a second time in a bill to provide the actual money.

Byrd told the Senate Monday that more than 200 billion dollars of federal spending in the last 30 years have been handled through Treasury debt receipts outside of congressional appropriations control.

Local Tax Case Under Adversement

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U. S. Tax Court yesterday look under advisement Hope newspaper publisher Alex H. Washburn's contention that he is entitled to an income tax exemption in connection with expenses for 1955 referendum petitions.

Tax Court Judge J. C. Gregory Bruce of Washington, D. C., heard opposing attorneys argue the case.

Washburn contends he is eligible for a $6,024.90 exemption in 1955 as the cost of circulating petitions for a referendum on the state sales tax exemption for poultry and livestock food. Washburn opposed the ballot proposal.

The Internal Revenue Service disallowed Washburn's tax exemption claim, asking $2,015 extra tax.

No date has been set for a decision, which will be appealable.

Washburn got enough signatures to place the sales tax exemption on the ballot at the 1956 general election, but the Arkansas Supreme Court invalidated the petitions on technical grounds and no vote was held.

Johnson Urges Step-up in Space Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson urged the Senate today to give speedy approval to a $481,254,000 authorization for stepping up the nation's civilian space effort.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today gave an assist to the nation's manned space flight efforts today with speedy passage of a bill for an extra $48,354,000 of spending this year.

Johnson said the Senate Space Committee, which he heads, "must be guided by only one standard—and that is to take whatever action is necessary in the national interest."

At the same time Johnson said the committee had decided to delay action on a larger space request for $485,300,000 for the next fiscal year until a special investigation is completed.

Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) heads a special space subcommittee directed to look into possible duplication and interservice rivalry among government agencies for control of the space program.

Johnson noted that the pending bill "is the exact amount requested" by the administration for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

"This does not mean that the committee has simply rubber stamped the administration's request," he said, adding that a subcommittee under Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.) "has done a thorough and expeditious job" in reviewing the requests and programs.

The funds authorized by the bill are for spending before the new year starts July 1.

Johnson told the Senate, as it met an hour and a half early, that he hoped to get action on the space authorization and the four-year draft extension during the day and then turn to the Hawaii statehood bill.

He said a late session might be necessary tonight, and asked the Senate to meet at 10 a.m. EST Wednesday, two hours earlier.

Stennis, as floor manager for the $484 million dollar NASA authorization, said the space vehicle development program soon will be costing billions of dollars a year.

He repeated is warning that if any adversary outstrips the United States in producing space vehicles that can deliver nuclear weapons, "the threat to our security could be disastrous."

The authorization includes 20% of $1.1 billion for Project Mercury, NASA's initial manned space research program.

Macmillan and DeGaulle Talk Over Cold War

PARIS (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan said today he had found "a great measure of sympathy and agreement" in a three-hour meeting with President Charles de Gaulle of France on the Berlin and German situations.

He made the statement as he left Elysee Palace after a meeting that lasted an hour longer than expected.

Reporters asked him for his impressions of the talks. He first started by saying "full agreement" but then said "a great measure of agreement."

De Gaulle is believed to favor a much tougher approach to the Soviet Union than the British are. Macmillan and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd walked back to the British Embassy after the session. Some passers-by shouted "Vive Macmillan." One dissenter cried "Macmillan go home," and Macmillan looked up startled.

The big item to be thrashed out was Macmillan's new approach to the old idea of arms reduction in central Europe—a proposition of which De Gaulle and the French are highly suspicious.

With De Gaulle and Macmillan for their talks were British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The two foreign secretaries met for an hour first to iron out details so their chiefs could immediately come to grips with the big problems of Western policy in the face of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's maneuverings in Germany.

The House passed an emergency appropriation for pay for education of Little Rock students now enrolled in schools in the Pulaski County Rural and Hazen School Districts.

Under the bill, Pulaski County would get $60,000 and Hazen $30,000 to replace money which was lost because of a recent federal court injunction against transfer of funds withheld from Little Rock's closed public high schools.

The House passed and sent to the governor a bill which would require school districts to lower millages so that the property reassessment program would not result in a great tax increase.

The measure would restrict total tax collections under increased assessments to 115 per cent of the amount collected under old assessments rates.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Senate yesterday approved a $21 million dollar special bond issue for highway construction.

But the bill, sent immediately to the House in a race against Thursday noon adjournment, ran into opposition in the lower chamber.

Voters would have to approve the bond issue in a statewide election. The bond issue cleared the Senate, 20-11, after Gov. Orval E. Faubus appeared personally before the Legislature's Joint Budget Committee to urge passage of the bond issue and another bill to hike license fees on trucks.

The Senate, however, ignored the governor's plea on the truck tag bill and defeated the proposal.

The House snub over the bond bill came when Pulaski Rep. J. H. Cottrell objected to a second reading of a device that would have tied up the bill an additional 24 hours.

Pressure Put on Legislature by Governor

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas House today passed a bill to set up machinery for a $21 million dollar highway bond issue over the next three years.

Under heavy administration pressure, for the measure, the vote was 77-11.

The bill now goes to the governor. He passed the Senate yesterday, 20-12.

Several House members argued vigorously against the measure, contending it would complicate rather than solve highway problems.

Proponents of the measure said simply that additional highway money was needed to match federal funds, that the Legislature had not seen fit to increase highway taxes, and that the bill would not result in a bond issue unless the people voted in favor of it.

Pulaski Rep. J. H. Cottrell spoke against the measure. He called the bill a "bond broker's deal."

"The problems of the Highway Department stem from previous bond issues," Cottrell said. "The seriousness of the Highway Department's financial crisis has been exaggerated."

Earlier, Cottrell, offered an amendment to limit the bond issue to the actual amount of federal funds which would be lost because of a shortage of state funds. This amendment was defeated 62-20 after Little Rock Rep. Marion Pritchard said it was designed to beat the bill.

Cottrell said he pointed out that Gov. Orval E. Faubus was backing the measure.

Crank said the bill would not require the Highway Department to issue the full amount of bonds authorized.

"Assuming the Highway Department has a problem, this is the worst way to solve it," said Cottrell, Rep. Ray Smith Jr.

"We can't duck our responsibility by referring this bond issue to the people. If we want to let the people vote, let's give them a choice between a pay-as-you-go tax increase or this bond issue."

The House passed an emergency appropriation for pay for education of Little Rock students now enrolled in schools in the Pulaski County Rural and Hazen School Districts.

Under the bill, Pulaski County would get $60,000 and Hazen $30,000 to replace money which was lost because of a recent federal court injunction against transfer of funds withheld from Little Rock's closed public high schools.

Bank Robbed of $72,000: Suspect Held

MASSAPEQUA, N.Y. (AP) — Police today arrested a plumber, an insurance salesman, a blueprint developer and a tavern owner, and said they admitted pulling off a $72,000 bank robbery here Monday.

The plumber was picked up Monday night on a tip. After all-night questioning, police said, he named his accomplices.

Police said the three accomplices were counting the money when they were surprised this morning.

All the money was recovered. The four bandits staged the daring holdup armed and wearing protective masks.

They walked out carrying shopping bags stuffed with the cash and leaving a tear gas bomb behind them to terrify the bank customers and employees. The bomb failed to go off.

Detective Stuyvesant Pintoff identified the four as:

Thomas Parks, 27, a plumber of Bay Shore; Anatole Rytsky, 44, a tavern owner, of West Babylon; Richard Hatch, 53, a blueprint developer, of West Babylon; and William McHenry, 31, an insurance salesman, of Lindenhurst, Long Island.

The three counting the money were taken by police at Rytsky's home, police said.

The four were charged with assault and armed robbery. "Hatch" said Parks was picked up on a tip that he had tried to buy some handcuffs.

Since police had investigated several recent holdups using hand cuffs, they were curious. Under questioning, Parks admitted the purchase of the face masks, and finally named his associates, police said.

The holdup was marked by cool precision throughout and took only three minutes.

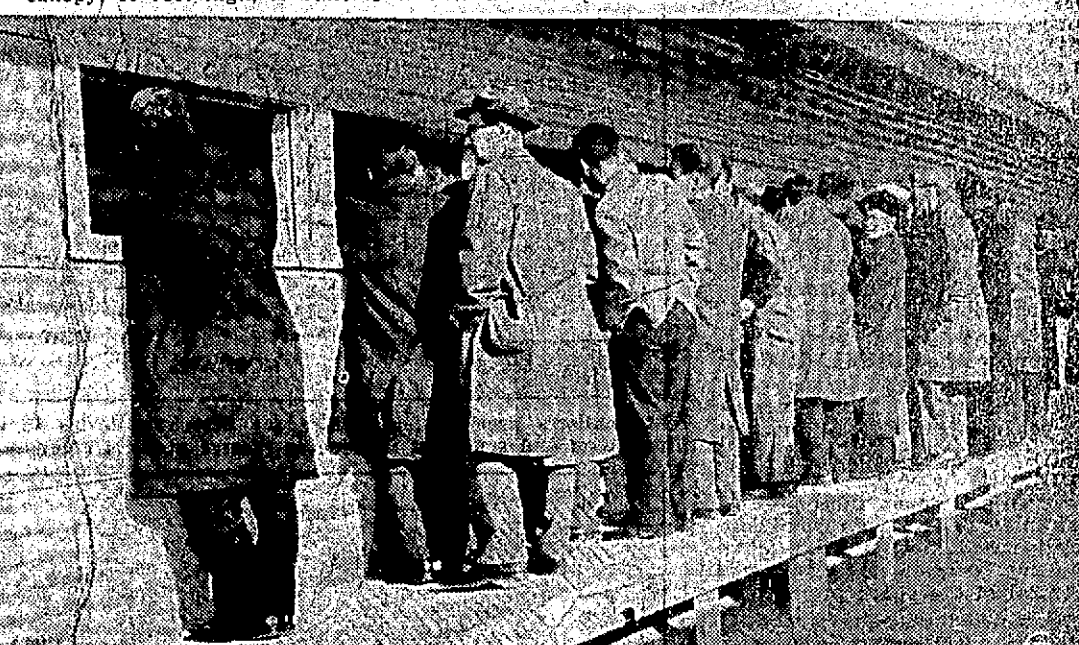

It was 2:15 p.m. when the four men parked their 1952 coupe in the lot behind the Security National Bank in this Long Island community.

Leaving the engine running, they strode briskly, single file, through the back door. Two carried machine guns, two carried pistols. Each wore a comical rubber nose mask, with attached goggles.

One of the men walked into the office of Manager Frank Edmonds. Another bandit waved the 12 customers and bank employees

Tigers Add Heft to Their Hurling Staff

The Detroit Tigers added some heft to their pitching staff this winter by obtaining Ray Narleski and Don Moss from Cleveland.

What they're looking for now is a strong comeback by Billy Horton, their southpaw ace of three years ago.

If Hoeff continues to make a good showing, look for the 4-1 odds currently quoted on the Tigers' American League pennant chances to drop rapidly.

Monday the 26-year-old southpaw looked every bit the pitcher he was in 1916 when he won 20 games. He worked three hitless innings as the Bengals blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 40.

The losers collected their four hits off the combined offerings of Tom Morgan and Jim Rauch.

SHOOT-EM-UP—Apparently there is no off-season on Wyoming's highway signs in the minds of trigger-happy hunters. Natrona County Highway Supervisor Tom Duncan looks over a sign performed by some 50 holes after a bombardment from weapons ranging from revolvers to high-powered rifles. This new sign, near Casper, had a lifetime of just three weeks.

Seek Added Control Over Agri Program

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Two agriculture groups want the state Board of Education to exercise more control over the vocational agriculture program in Arkansas schools.

The groups made their requests to the board yesterday, but no action was taken.

The requests were presented by Jim Pickron, of Lewisville, president of the Vocation Agriculture Teachers Assn. of Arkansas, and L. C. Baber of Little Rock, secretary of the state advisory committee on vocational agriculture education.

Pickron and Baber asked the board to draw up a new state plan for vocational agriculture.

Among proposals advanced were the following:

1. That the local schools hire only vocational agriculture teachers which first have been approved by the state Department of Education.

2. That state reimbursement for vocational agriculture programs be withheld from schools whose instructors are not doing a proper job of helping the students with their Future Farmers of America

The teen-age way to beauty lies in good grooming. To achieve it, most teen-agers need to bring order out of chaos. Step in the right direction (left) keeping beauty tools clean. This girl washes powder puff and pins them up to dry. Then she makes chart (center) of her beauty schedule, listing all of the things she plans to do daily and weekly. Soapsuds facial (right) is the beginning of a beautiful skin. This smart teen-ager knows that trying to hide bad skin with layers of makeup only makes matters worse. This facial removes excess oil, cleanses pores and whips up circulation. It's one way to a glowing skin. A program like this one can turn an average girl into a pretty one.

Kids Comments Put Mother in a Muddle

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I'm the mother of two high school girls and I thought by this time I'd know how to handle them. But, no, everything I do is wrong — in their eyes. I have a good voice and sing in the choir. They always complain that I sing too loud, am out of key or do not keep up with the others. If I clean house they say it really isn't necessary; the house wasn't dirty. If I don't clean it — oh boy! I can sew well enough for some of the best people in town to pay me for clothes but when I sew for my daughters it's never right. If I laugh, I laugh too loud; if I don't I'm mad. I give them the last penny I have to keep them satisfied but they never are — Sadie.

Dear Sadie: Your dear daughters are little tyrants. And tyrants can never be satisfied. The more you do for them, the more they demand. The cure is to stop giving or doing, and to start extracting something from your children. Let them do some sewing, give them household chores, and for heaven sake save that last penny and buy yourself something giddy just to prove to them that you're a person. Instead of letting your daughters boss the household, take the reins in your own hands where they should have been all the time. Don't be afraid. The first thunderbolt is the hardest to shoot. After the smoke rolls away and the kids wake up, life will be smoother for everyone — including the two demons.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My husband was once a beautifully tailored businessman; today he's a retired tramp. From the day he was pensioned, he has refused to dress nicely. He hangs around all day in tattered clothing I'd be ashamed to give a beggar. I've tried every ruse to get rid of the objectionable rags but he catches me every time — Grace.

Dear Grace: Nobody has a like of unclouded bliss. All of us must weigh our blessings with our crosses — and if the blessings outweigh the burdens, we're very happy. Count your blessings, dear lady, and as far as I can see they outweigh the crosses. You should be prayerfully grateful that you have a husband, that he's healthy, that you are both free from money woes. He worked hard for many years and I think he should enjoy his retirement in whatever state of disrepair he chooses. He's earned your tolerance. Stop nagging and learn to bear with him. He's worth it.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
Ten years ago I divorced my husband because of drinking, infidelity and cruelty. I was given custody of our four children. He remarried. I didn't. Now that the children are becoming of age, he's taken an interest in them and is Reminded that this delay might prove fatal to the bill, Colwell withdrew his objection but said he would try to amend the bill later.

Officials of the state Highway Commission have said they will lose millions of dollars in federal money unless additional state money is made available for matching purposes. "The Senate, before voting on the bond bill, called in top officials of the department and questioned them on spending plans."

In an action-packed day that saw some talk of the session possibly being extended at least five days, both the House and senate voted on dozens of bills.

The Senate passed, without dissent, a bill to permit school districts to segregate pupils by sex, age and health.

The House stymied, at least momentarily, a Senate bill that would permit election of three additional members to the deadlocked Little Rock School Board. There were reports on the House floor that Faubus had sent word to kill the bill.

A similar bill which would add three members to the board, but permit the governor to appoint them, is tied up in a parliamentary procedure in the senate. It was approved by the House, apparently with administration backing.

The House also killed a bill that would have set up minimum wage levels in Arkansas. This bill had been asked for by Faubus in his inaugural address. It imposed minimum levels of 70 cents an hour for most workers and 55 cents for those receiving tips. But Faubus said this was merely an opening wedge and would lead to higher minimums at succeeding legislative sessions.

The House gave its approval to a dozen or more budget bills, including 91 million dollars for the state Education department. It turned down an appropriation of $200,000 for a new electronic roll call system for the Legislature.

And the representatives also passed a bill setting up procedures for the opening of Little Rock's four closed high schools at the start of the next school term in September. "The bill does not affect the governor's power to close

Patterson to Fight Swedish Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson will defend his world heavyweight boxing title against Ingemar Johansson of Sweden in New York, promoter Bill Rosen said today. No date was set but it is believed that the fight will be held Tuesday, June 23.

The Yankees play in the Stadium Sunday, June 21, then go on the road until the end of the month. However, the exact date is not definite.

Rosenbom signed the two fighters on Jan. 20 before taking off on a 10-city tour to find the best site. At the press conference today, Rosenbom said the bout would be televised but that he was unable to say at this time if it would be home or theater TV.

Construction Bill Backed by Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An on-budget bill calling for a minimum of $4,120,000 in state construction funds for the next two years was introduced in the Arkansas Senate yesterday with the backing of Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Of the total, 1 1/2 million dollars would go to the State Hospital, where many buildings are around a half century old, and $750,000 would go to the new Children's Colony at Conway.

Other state units and institutions would get lesser amounts.

A Cherokee Indian Agency was established at Dardanelle in 1920, the first settlement in Yell county was at Dardanelle two years before.

Urges Offer to Guarantee a Free Berlin

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Free world leaders were urged by Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) today to counter the latest Soviet proposal with an offer for a four-power guarantee of freedom for all of Berlin.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in a suggestion Monday to West Berlin, said: "A minimum number of troops drawn either from the four major powers or from neutral nations might be stationed there."

Mansfield, the assistant Democratic leader, said in an interview he shares the skepticism of other U.S. leaders concerning the validity of Khrushchev's proposals. But he said the West could take advantage of Khrushchev's suggestion for a guarantee of West Berlin's independence with neutral or Big Four troops.

"That wouldn't be enough," Mansfield said. "But if Khrushchev wants to cover all of Berlin under United Nations guarantees of success and control of East and West Berlin, then I think that would be worthy of consideration."

Khrushchev's proposal, which met a cautious reception from State Department officials, was described by Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as only a variation of an old story.

"It sounds like some of the things that Mikoyan was saying when he was here," Fulbright said. He alluded to conversations committee members had with Anastas I. Mikoyan, deputy Soviet premier, on his visit to this country.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican leader, interpreted the latest Khrushchev statement as an indication that the Soviet leader may be seeking to maneuver his way out of his Nov. 27 ultimatum for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

"But it is difficult to judge what Khrushchev is up to," Dirksen said. "That was his Monday statement. What he will say today or tomorrow we don't know. He changes position as fast as the slots in a revolving door."

Woman and Preacher Held in Plot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A 41-year-old woman and a young preacher were arrested Monday after a detective said he posed as a professional killer in an alleged plot against the woman's husband.

Beatrice Gurley, mother of three grown children, and John A. Walker, 25, the preacher, were booked for investigation of conspiracy in murder of Hugh Ernest Gurley, 45.

Detective Jack Metcalf, who said he played the killer-for-hire, arrested Mrs. Gurley. He said she gave him $100 as a down payment in the $1,000 deal to kill her husband.

The alleged installment-plan murder drama was played out in the preacher's car while a hidden tape recorder and motion picture camera recorded the affair, Metcalf said.

Metcalf said Mrs. Gurley signed a statement in which she said she wanted to hire someone to kill her husband. Walker denied any connection with the alleged plot.

Mrs. Gurley was quoted as saying she wanted her husband killed so she could get $30,000 in insurance and because he had been mean to her children by a previous marriage.

Later, Mrs. Gurley said her husband had little insurance and she wanted him killed because he wouldn't let her go to church with Walker, who shared the Gurley home, Metcalf said.

Gurley said that Mrs. Gurley and Walker attended church and power meetings several times a week and that Walker's presence in the home had caused arguments.

Labor Dispute Halts School Construction

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Construction work on the Hugh Godwin Elementary school here was halted yesterday by a labor dispute.

Members of Local 2087 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers put up a picket line in what A. O. Hobbs, union business agent, said was a protest to the use of non-union labor on the project.

New Lincoln Penny Is Lopsided

BY FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The New Lincoln penny is lopsided but will stay in circulation. It seems that the old penny, which has been knocking around for 50 years is just as cockeyed.

Rumors about the new coin have been spreading ever since distribution began in January. There has been talk it is marred by one or more blunders and will be withdrawn from circulation.

Some people have gathered the coins in quantity, believing they will soon become a valuable collector's item.

Edward Howard, director of the mint, said today every such rumor is without foundation and that no mistakes were made in design or manufacture.

One side of the new coin, with the profile of Abraham Lincoln, is unchanged from the model introduced in 1909. The "tail" side is brand new and features a reproduction of the Lincoln Memorial.

Coleman Wouldn't Join 3rd Party

MEMPHIS (AP)—Gov. J. P. Coleman, of Mississippi said yesterday he would not join a third party if one should arise in the South over racial issues.

The governor told a youth panel on a local television show, "I've always been opposed to third parties. They can't win and therefore don't do much good. But they're always a possibility."

As to his own political allegiance:

"Some Northern agitators in the Democratic Party want to make one question determine all questions. But I'll try my best to stay honorably within the party, and I don't leave the party unless they kick me out."

"Every time we bring out a new coin there are a lot of rumors and we get a big batch of mail and phone calls," Howard said.

Take the latest rumor—that the coin is lopsided and must be scrapped because it won't stack properly.

Howard fished a new penny from his pocket and inspected the rim. Pointing, he said: "Here the rim is thinner than at any other point. You can see it with the naked eye."

The spot he indicated was right below Lincoln's shoulder.

Howard then took an old penny and pointed out the same thin point at the same spot.

It is caused by the heavy press that stamps the coin design onto a flat disc of metal, Howard explained.

Howard said almost every U.S. coin, regardless of denomination, has such a thin spot. He picked up a quarter and examined it. The rim was thinner above the head of Washington.

Tomorrow comes in new packaging. Homemakers open shortening that comes in a tube; it can be sliced with package's tear string. On table are: tube for packaged frosting; foreground; jellies packaged in small aluminum cans for individual servings; six-serving cereal pack, each pack in its own dish; ready-to-bake muffins in aluminum pans. Large container is a foil, "iceless" icebox for camping or other temporary food storage.

Principal Resigns at El Dorado

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Howard M. Elder yesterday announced his resignation as principal of El Dorado High School to become director of the evening division and assistant professor of Latin at Centenary College, Shreveport, La. Harold Smith, principal of El Dorado Junior High, will succeed Elder.

Asks Study of Speeding Justice

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Judiciary Committee today asked the Senate to authorize a $50,000 study of methods for speeding justice in the federal courts.

The resolution, approved by voice vote at a closed door meeting, now goes to the Senate which is expected to send the measure to its Rules Committee for an other look.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The Weather Bureau reported during a heavy snowfall today that one of its observers at Olean saw a flock of geese heading north shortly after midnight.

"Spring is here," said the bureau.

Mrs. Ike Enroute to Washington

DENVER, Colo. (AP) Mamie Eisenhower took off today in mild sunny weather for her return flight to Washington.

The First Lady came here Saturday to spend the weekend with her mother, Ellvera Doud, 80, who has been in ill health in recent months.

Mrs. Eisenhower was accompanied on the presidential plane Columbine III by her sister, Mrs. G. Gordon Moore. Before coming here they had spent three weeks at a beauty and health resort at Phoenix, Ariz.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will hold a news conference Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. EST.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower went to Walter Reed Army hospital today for another visit with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

It was his seventh visit to the hospital since Dulles entered there Feb. 10 for a hernia operation which disclosed recurrence of cancer.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Irish Air Lines announced plans today to unveil a memorial June 15 to John A. Leeck and A. W. Brown, the first men to fly nonstop across the Atlantic Ocean.

The stone cairn, 15 feet high, will be two miles south of Clifden in Ireland's County Galway, a few hundred yards from the spot where the pioneer aviators landed June 15, 1919, after a 19-hour flight from Newfoundland.

The largest cotton plantation in the world is located at Wilson, Arkansas.

Amendments Left Up to Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A joint Senate and House committee last night left it up to the full Legislature to make a final decision on proposed constitutional amendments to be put on the next general election ballot.

The committee selected five from a list of 27. The number must be cut to three since state law prohibits the Legislature from submitting more than that an any ning took. Ackerman had gotten down all right. His body rolled against me. I pushed myself to my knees, saw Ackerman's glasses lying there, miraculously unbroken. And then I saw Ackerman. His face was a mutilated mass of red flesh.

There was a crowd around us and men were running from all directions. I gazed about stupidly. Through the settling dust I saw that the floor was littered with black jagged chunks of abrasive, like sharp pieces of broken stone. A voice roared, "Get out of the way."

Mike Brandon pushed through the crowd and knelt beside the still form of Ackerman, put an arm beneath the superintendent's shoulders and gazed upward.

"Somebody give me a hand"

Ackerman was heavy. I was sweating when we reached the dispensary. The nurse took one sharp look at him and spoke crisply to Brandon. "Call the doctor and an ambulance."

I left. Lawrence Quincy was standing just outside the door still looking sick. He was holding Ackerman's glasses. He said, "How—how is he?"

"Unconscious. Brandon is calling a doctor." I nodded at the glasses. "You can leave those in Ackerman's office. He won't need them for a while."

He swallowed, his gaze shifting away from mine. "I—I heard the sound. A wheel makes a queer shrill sound when it's being tested above the testing speed. I was certain the wheel was about to burst and I started to warn you, but it was too late."

"You knew the clasp on the door of that testing machine was broken?"

He nodded dismally. "Yes, I know it. It's part of my job as safety director to see that it was repaired. I issued the order, but the maintenance department hasn't gotten around to it yet—short-handed."

Philip Varney appeared from somewhere and said to me, "Just what happened?"

I told him briefly.

"Maybe I'd just better resign right now," Quincy said angrily. "Would you like that, Phil? Then you'd be sure-fire for Howard's job."

Varney took a very deep breath. "Larry—that's—cheap. I'm only trying to help you."

"Thank you, Phil. Quincy said snoringly. He walked away.

I walked over to the group standing around the testing machine. The fat operator was chewing tobacco rapidly and pointing at the heavy steel door, now hanging loosely by one hinge. "It wasn't my fault," he was saying. "All of a sudden she began to screech like a banshee and the RPM went crazy. Before I could shut her off she went wham! I've been telling 'em and telling 'em to fix that broken clamp."

general election. Included among the five was an amendment to legalize gambling at Hot Springs and another to permit all local school districts to abandon the present public school system in favor of a student aid program. The student aid program would be a last resort move to circumvent court-ordered integration.

A delegation of Baptist ministers appeared at the committee's public hearing last night to speak against the proposal to legalize gambling at Hot Springs. One spoke and the committee said it didn't have time to hear the others.

The other three proposals the committee selected would: Increase from $5,000 the salary ceiling for constitutional officers to $20,000 for the governor, $12,000 for the attorney general and up to $10,000 for other constitutional state, county and municipal officers.

On the radio the other day a commentator mentioned a sign in a Miami drugstore. The sign reads: "If we don't have it, you don't NEED it!"

THE STORY: Since only grinding wheels sent to the Portage firm in Toledo are defective, Jim Bennett suggests that wheels made under the same specifications for another firm be sent to Portage. He suspects sabotage along the line and he is acting on a hunch.

Ackerman hesitated, biting his lower lip. Then he said, "We can do it, but it would mean that Alexander Steel would not receive their order on time. It might tie up production for them. They're a good customer, too."

"But Portage is a much better one, and it will only mean a day or two delay. You can ship the Portage wheels to Alexander as soon as they are retested."

"Retest them? They've already been tested!"

"I know that. Go tell Brandon to do as I said."

He fidgeted, he hesitated, and his gaze avoided mine. He muttered something about delivery dates and a sourer relations. Then he sighed and looked directly at me. "Bennett, this entire deal is—fantastic. I never thought that the day would come when Buckeye would need the services of a—private detective. Are you sure you know what you're doing?"

"I'm not sure of anything, except that you have hired me and that I now agree that your trouble is not technical."

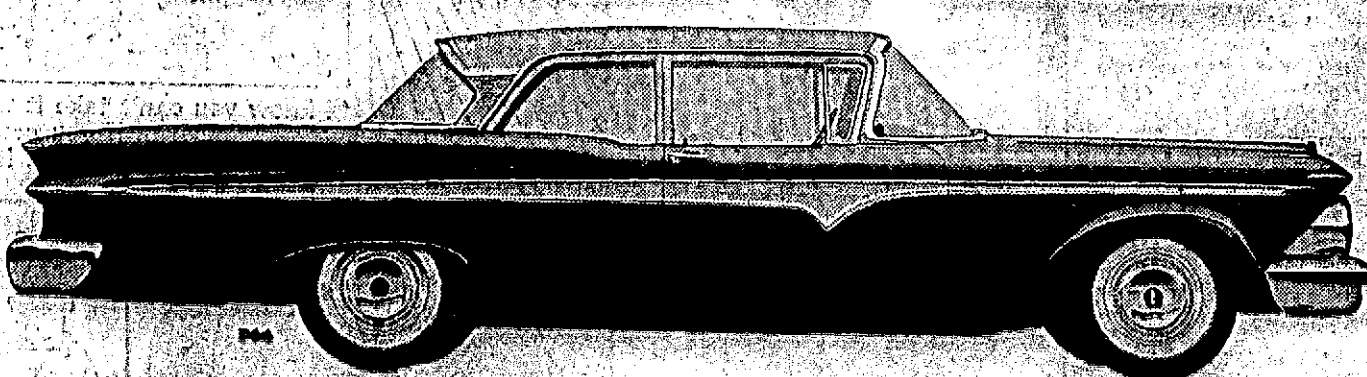

We were walking side by side, with Ackerman on my left, when we entered the inspection department and started past the rows of testing machines. The place was filled with the shrill scream of a wheel inside one of the drums as it was being spunward the limit of its endurance. As we approached the tester it seemed to me that the sound of the whirling wheel inside was higher, more tortured and wilder than the sound I'd heard the morning before. Ackerman must have sensed it, too, because he stopped at the machine and gazed at the speed indicator. The operator was the same fat man. He was chewing tobacco nervously as he watched the indicator climb to 20,000. The screech from inside the drum rose to a whistling scream.

"Shut it off!" Ackerman shouted. "That wheel will burst!"

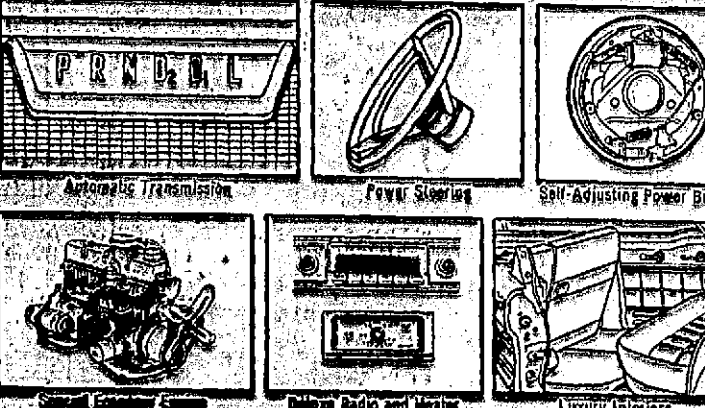

It was then that I saw the dangling steel clamp on the tester door, saw that it was still broken. The fat man shouted, "She's running wild!"
